ABOUT

I'm a motion graphics designer from London with tons of experience. I've spent the last year working for and freelancing with a couple of different studios. Over that time I've been working mainly within advertising and promotion for clients such as Sky, Universal Music, Sony Music, Defected and even Tom Cruise. I've learnt a ton from some talented people, including developing 3D skills with Cinema 4D, something that I've picked up since graduating.
